Day 02 Xiamen & Gulangyu Tour

Detailed Itinerary: You will have free time for the beach this morning. You will be picked up at 1:00PM and transferred to Gulangyu Island. You have free time to explore the island by yourself. Take a stroll on narrow lanes and various old buildings, try well-known dessert and dimsum for tea breaks at Longtou Road.

Note: Round trips of ferry/coach transfer service for today.

Coast Road (Huangdao Road):

Huangdao Road in Chinese. From Xiamen University to International Convention Center. It is about as ocean-front as you can get. The view is splendid. It is quite good an experience for 1 hour ride here.

Waterfront Plank:

Waterfront Plank is 6km long, from Hulishan Fort, Pearl Bay Garden, Calligraphy Square, Zeng Cuo An Beach, Musician Square, Baishi Fort relics, Sun Bay Beach and Huangcuo Rock Beach.

This waterfront plank is divided into two parts. The waterfront bridge is built on shoreline cliffs, and the trail is built on beach. Enjoy your time here. You can rent a bike and ride on trails specially designed for you only!

Gulangyu Island

It is renowned for its delicate natural beauty, ancient relics, and varied architectures.

Shuzhuang Garden

It is a tiny garden with style of mixture of Taiwanese and Japanese garden and features snaking paths, koi ponds and hidden zodiac sculptures.

Piano Museum

It displays a collection of over 200 pianos from different nations in the world, some of which are over a century old. When the Treaty of Nanking was ratified in 1842, British forced China to open its door to outside world, Xiamen is a thriving port city once again. More and more Europeans live in Gulangyu. The study of piano proved more popular in 1920's, and some of the country's most skilled musicians came from Gulangyu.
