

VFTLM-02: 4 DAYS HIDDEN CHARM OF VIENTIANE Muslim Package

Valid Till: 31 Dec 17

Highlight of sightseeing:

- Wat Sisaket: is one of the most important temples in Laos and known as the only temple that survived the Siamese occupation that destroyed Vientiane in 1828. It was restored in 1924 and subsequently in 1930. The architecture of the temple has some Siamese influence but is mostly based on Laos design. All in all, the temple contains more than 5,000 Buddha statues in various sizes and postures.
- Wat Hor Prakeo: was used as the royal chapel of the Lao Monarchy, but more importantly it was built to house the Emerald Buddha.
- That Luang Stupa: is a gold-covered large Buddhist stupa in the centre of Vientiane, Laos. Since its initial establishment, suggested to be in the 3rd century, the stupa has undergone several reconstructions as recently as the 1930s due to foreign invasions of the area. It is generally regarded as the most important national monument in Laos and a national symbol.
- Patuxay: is well known as Vientiane's own Arc de Triumph, a war monument dedicated to those who fought for the independence from France, located at the end of Lang Xang avenue, in the heart of Vientiane.
- Market of 52 KM: various hill tribes come to trade their goods and buy provisions and near by Hmong village.
- Vang Xang: very famous for the archeological site dating back 11th century.
- Vang Vieng: is nestled on a bend of the Nam Song River. The small and tranquil village of Vang Vieng is rapidly developed with the advent of tourist, but the beautiful scenery with a mixture of quiet water and limestone outcrops unchanged for century.
- Tham Jang Cave: was once used by local people as a hideout from Chinese invaders.
- Tham Nam Thaem: is one of Vang Vieng's most interesting caves that is believed to stretch for at least 7 km. It takes about two hours to explore the cavern and at the entrance there is a crystal-clear pool.
- Organic Farm: where mulberry tea and a variety of fruit wines are produced.
