Discover the history of the Paraguayan capital: from the Spanish colonization to the independency through the prosperity time of President Lopez and at least the modernity. Among other things you will visit the Casa de la Independencia, the cathedral Metro-politana and the heroes' memorial – Panteón Nacional de los Héroes. During your tour you have time to try a Paraguayan specialty, the Empanadas. At the end you will experience a typical South American market – Mercado 4.

Day 3 Asuncion

Breakfast at Hotel. Day tour to the park and mountain Cerro Mbatoví.

Your breath will stock, your heart will run faster. But still, you will enjoy the fresh breeze while driving with a cable car across the 40 m canyon. In the theme park Mbatoví you will climb above rope bridges and through the trees, passing fresh mountain sources and small waterfalls and go through a cave. Here you can prove your courage and skills. Highlight of that park is the cable car Tapé Saingó, which means in Guaraní “path falling off”. The last challenge is to climb down a 25 m high rock wall. In the end you can enjoy a cool bath in the river with its small waterfall Chololo.

Day 4 Asuncion

Breakfast at Hotel. Hiking trip National park Ybycuí

Full Day trip to La Rosada with hiking. You leave early in the morning Asunción taking the Route 1 direction south. You stop in Yaguaron, where the oldest church in Paraguay is. The interior impress cause of its simpleness and the use of natural colors. Originally it was built as a fortress later than it has been converted into a church. After the visit we continue to go to the national park Ybycui. First we visit the small museum, which tells the history about the iron industry of Paraguay. During the triple alliance war most of the guns and weapons were founded here. In 1869 the manufacture was destroyed by the armies of the enemy and never rebuilt again. We leave the museum and start with the hiking tour. Our first walk takes us to the falls Minas and Guaraní. After lunch we will continue our tour to the other falls Bocaruzu 1 and 2 which are a bit outside of the park so we will have to drive there. Depending on the water level we will be able to cross the river and to climb down one of the falls to get to a small beach beside the falls where we will have a refreshing bath in the river. In the late afternoon we drive back to Asunción where we arrive in the evening.
