Mi Quang is a kind of flat wide rice noodle from Quang Nam Province, most commonly served with a small amount of broth, which is generally infused with tuSGDeric, garnished with fresh herbs, peanuts and toasted sesame rice cracker called bánh tráng mè, which sets the dish apart from other noodle dishes.

Marble Mountain ~ are rocky limestone outcrops jutting out of the beach just south of Đà Nẵng. Paths lead to the top of the forested cliffs, affording spectacular views of Non-Nuoc Beach and the East Sea. The group includes Kim Son (Mountain of Metal), Moc Son (Mountain of Wood), Thuy Son (Mountain of Water), Hoa Son (Mountain of Fire), and Tho Son (Mountain of Earth). The caves nestled in the cliffs were originally inhabited by the Cham people. Later, the Nguyễn Dynasty built numerous pagodas among the caves, and it's a popular pilgrimage site.

Son Tra Peninsula ~ arriving at Son Tra Mountain also known to the American soldiers as Monkey Mountain a foSGDer U.S. Military base during the Vietnam War, here you may overlook the Bay of Da Nang and the East Sea and also visit Ling Ung Bai But Pagoda, it is the largest pagoda in Central Vietnam. This pagoda features a stunning view of the sea, the sky, and a 67-meter tall statue of "Quan Im (The Goddess Of Mercy)" facing the ocean being the tallest Buddha statue in Vietnam; an attractive spiritual tourist destination of Da Nang city where meeting the heaven and earth's sacred air and people's heart.

Huế listed as UNESCO World Heritage Site is a city in central Vietnam that was the seat of Nguyen Dynasty emperors and the national capital from 1802 to 1945. A major attraction is its vast, 19th-century Đại Nội Citadel, surrounded by a moat and thick stone walls. It encompasses the Imperial City, with palaces and shrines; the Forbidden Purple City (Tử cấm thành), once the emperor's home; and a replica of the Royal Theater.

Hoi An Ancient Town - inscribed by UNESCO in 1999, Hoi An "is an exceptionally well-preserved example of a South-East Asian trading port dating from the 15th to the 19th century... The town reflects a fusion of indigenous and foreign cultures (principally Chinese and Japanese with later European influences) that combined to produce this unique survival." What you see today is a townscape built during the 17th and 18th centuries, which still includes 1,107 timber-frame buildings and a street plan that once allowed customers access from the front of them, and convenient off-loading of goods from boats on the river.
